

The sporty nature of the SEAT range is one of its main hallmarks, both in terms of innovative and dynamic design, and the engine specifications and finishes of some of its vehicles. The FR and Cupra are good examples of this. The Ibiza, Córdoba, León, Altea, Altea XL, Toledo and Alhambra are SEAT's other models, covering a wide range of requirements. These models are good examples of another of the brand's hallmarks: its wide range of engine specifications, versions and features.

Safety, for car occupants as well as pedestrians, is another key feature of all the SEAT models and they thus achieved excellent results in the latest EuroNCAP safety assessments. The brand has also gained international recognition for its technological innovations which aim to improve safety, such as its vertical windscreen wipers, which are integrated into the windscreen uprights on the León, Altea, Altea XL and Toledo ranges.

SEAT TOLEDO

A saloon with the capacity and spaciousness of a people carrier: that's how the SEAT Toledo is best described. SEAT ALHAMBRA

Undoubtedly the best option for families: due to its roominess, loading capacity, comfort and safety. The range offers three petrol and two diesel engines, from 115 – 204 hp.
